

Invitation: 1st Product Certification Workshop • 30th of June 2011 in Dresden, Germany

We are pleased to invite you to our First Product Certification Workshop on June 30th, 2011 in Dresden, Germany. This event is held exclusively for A.N. Solutions customers.

Why you should attend?

- You plan a product launch of a short-range device ("SRD") or other WPAN technology based solutions.
- You plan to expand, update or enlarge your product portfolio incorporating SRD technologies into new markets.
- You would like to understand general requirements of SRD product certification.

You will learn about:

- Certification requirement for products launch with SRD technologies
- Varieties of local regulation constraints to be considered
- Synergies amongst compliance testing of SRD modules and product certification

Additionally, you will have the opportunity to address your questions to a leading industry expert.
